United Restoration Partners: Coronavirus Cleanup Services

With the ongoing spread of COVID-19 (Coronavirus), United Restoration would like to take this time to inform you that we are prepared and available to be your trusted partner in COVID-19 cleanup and sanitization. Among the steps that United Restoration is taking to ensure that our government and commercial clients will receive immediate and uninterrupted service to reduce risk of liability and risk of infection includes maintaining a highly-trained team of technicians, a large inventory of antimicrobial chemicals that are EPA-registered to kill Human Coronavirus, personal protective equipment (PPE), and air fogging machines.

As South Florida's leading EPA-certified disaster and biohazard remediation firm, United Restoration provides our priority clients with rapid emergency response, 24/7. United Restoration adheres to all OSHA regulations, is a certified EPA and IICRC firm, and strictly follows the most state-of-the-art procedures when it comes to virus cleanup and disinfection. Because COVID-19 is still novel, United Restoration is continually consulting with the CDC for up to date solutions and utilizes CDC and EPA-approved disinfectants.

United Restoration's approach to COVID-19 cleanup and sanitization includes cleaning, disinfecting, and properly disposing of all infected materials as biohazard waste, performing fogging and wipe down with CDC and EPA approved chemicals to kill Human Coronavirus, adhering to stringent coronavirus demobilization process for all equipment, trucks, and waste storage areas, and as always — preserving the confidentiality of all of our clients and projects.
